

Conformance Technologies Receives ETA's PayPal Tech Innovation Award

InConRadar Merchant Website Monitoring Service Honored as Best Risk Solution during TRANSACT 17

RENO, NV - Conformance Technologies, a fast-growing provider of operating systems, education systems and expertise used in managing business compliance requirements, today announced its InConRadar™ offering has received the Electronic Transactions Association's (ETA) PayPal Tech Innovation Award for best risk solution. Award judging and ceremonies took place last week during TRANSACT 17 at the Mandalay Bay Hotel & Casino in Las Vegas, Nevada.

"It's a tremendous honor to receive ETA's PayPal Tech Innovation Award," said Darrel Anderson, president of Conformance Technologies. "We appreciate being recognized by the Association representing the entire payments ecosystem for helping acquirers and payment processors combat risk before and after merchant onboarding," added Anderson.

Award-winning InConRadar is a continuous merchant website and risk factor monitoring service. Suspicious commercial activities, plus potential image damaging circumstances and business practices, are identified and presented in a consolidated format so that risk managers can investigate and take appropriate action. InConRadar can be used to streamline and enhance Know Your Customer (KYC) due diligence by learning more about merchants' digital environments before onboarding and connecting to the payments system, as well as regularly thereafter.
