

PSCU Adds Payments and Credit Union Industry Veteran to Management Team

Chris Gunnare Joins Leadership Team as Chief Member Experience Officer

St. Petersburg, FL - PSCU, the nation's leading credit union service organization, has added payments and credit union industry veteran Chris Gunnare to its senior leadership team, the company announced today. Gunnare will fill the role of Chief Member Experience Officer.

"We are honored to welcome Chris to our senior management team during a very important time for the CUSO," said Scott Wagner, PSCU's EVP and Chief Revenue Officer. "Chris's successful career and years of credit union experience make him a proven leader in the relationship and service sides of the business, and we are confident that this expertise will enhance our member experience."

A payments and credit union industry veteran with an extensive network, Gunnare joins PSCU with more than 24 years of experience at TMG where he served on the executive leadership team leading growth efforts, creating successful strategic partnerships and building client relationships. Earlier in Gunnare's career, he held roles at IBM and Unisys serving the financial industry. Gunnare received a Bachelor's in Marketing from the University of Iowa.

In this role as Chief Member Experience Officer, Gunnare will be responsible for further driving PSCU's mission of enabling growth and providing an unparalleled member experience. As demands for service are increasingly met through technology, Gunnare will help guide efforts to ensure PSCU continues to deliver an enhanced experience for Member-Owner credit unions and their members.
